INGRAM MICRO ‘VENDOR OF THE YEAR’

Honor Spotlights LG’s Extraordinary Collaboration, Partner Engagement, Sales Growth with Ingram Micro’s ProAV/DS Business

LINCOLNSHIRE, Ill., Nov. 25, 2019 – LG Business Solutions USA has been named this year’s ProAV/DS “Vendor of the Year” by global go-to-market business leader Ingram Micro Inc. This marks the third year in a row that LG has been presented with this prestigious award.

The 2019 honor was presented to the LG Business Solutions channel leadership team at the Ingram Micro Experience event at the Balboa Bay Resort in Southern California.

“Together, LG and Ingram Micro are expanding the market demand for innovative digital signage solutions that make customer engagement more compelling than ever before,” said Clark Brown, vice president, digital signage,

LG Business Solutions USA. “We’re honored to receive this prestigious recognition three years in a row, and I proudly accept this award on behalf of an LG team that works tirelessly every day with their Ingram Micro counterparts on the kind of forward-looking, customer-facing sales and marketing programs that meet the needs of end-customers across various vertical markets.”

Ingram Micro’s Vendor of the Year awards celebrate the growing success of the industry leader’s top-performing emerging and established channel-focused vendor organizations across several categories including technology, markets and communities. This year's winners were recognized for exemplifying a new level of excellence when it comes to working with Ingram Micro, and for their efforts in enabling channel partners to imagine next and do more with more. Additionally, Ingram Micro's team applauded its Vendor of the Year honorees for helping channel partners successfully market, sell and support technology solutions and services that solve for today's most common and most challenging business outcomes.

"It's an honor to present LG with an Ingram Micro Vendor of the Year award and recognize the team for its willingness to work together to better engage and enable the right channel partners with the right resources so together we can achieve extraordinary results," said Kirk Robinson, Ingram Micro's U.S. Chief Country Executive.

LG offers the industry's broadest array of display products and technologies that include everything from a family of desktop monitors featuring LG's 21:9 IPS displays to advanced videowall displays to one of the broadest 4K UHD portfolios in the market (with models ranging from 49- to 98-inches), as well as unique LG OLED screens in various configurations and LG Ultra Stretch displays. The LG product line also features indoor 1.0, 1.5. and 2.0mm pixel pitch LED display solutions for retail spaces, sports stadiums and transportation hubs.
